Youngstown Man Wounded During Fight

Three Are Arrested After Shooting In Brookside Park Lot

A 30-year old Youngstown man was shot twice in the left arm Friday night at 9:15 following a fist fight in the parking lot at the Brookside Park Cafe on Rt. 7, two miles south of Rogers.

The man, Elmer Cowan, was shot by a .38 caliber pistol allegedly fired by Haywood Smith, 37, of Youngstown during a fight between Cowan and Willie Ferguson, 38, of Youngstown, a friend of Smith's. A third man reportedly involved in the shooting is James Walker, 33, of Youngstown.

Smith, Ferguson and Walker, all Negroes, are being held in the Columbiana County jail. County Prosecutor William Brokaw was to file charges against the men today.

Cowan was treated at the East Liverpool City Hospital for his wounds and released. The series of events leading to the shooting began when State Highway Patrolman J. B. Patterson thought he saw Ferguson run through a traffic light at the intersection of Rt. 7 and Rt. 14.

Patterson stopped Ferguson for speeding. Patterson stopped Cowan who was driving behind Ferguson. While talking to Cowan about whether he thought Ferguson ran the light, Patterson discovered Cowan had no driver's license.

Patterson let both parties go with written warnings. Four miles down the road from where the two drivers had talked to Patrolman Patterson, Cowan pulled into the Brookside Park lot. Ferguson and his companions also pulled into the parking area and started talking to Cowan about his conversation with Patterson.

In the ensuing minutes, Cowan and Ferguson got into a fist fight. It was at this point that Smith pulled his pistol and shot Cowan, patrolmen said.

Patrolmen said the three men left the scene of the shooting but were arrested by Youngstown police at 3 a.m. in Youngstown.

Patrolmen said Cowan drove his car almost to East Liverpool before notifying East Liverpool police of the shooting. The East Liverpool police took Cowan to the hospital and notified the Columbiana County sheriff's office of the shooting.

The patrol learned of the shooting through the sheriff's office. Both the patrol and the county sheriff's office are still investigating.

Candidates Wind Up Campaigns

West Germans Set To Vote on Sunday

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German today winds up a vigorous election campaign that has focused primarily on Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his strong pro-Western foreign policy.

The nation's 35½ million voters will choose Sunday among the candidates of Adenauer's Christian Democrats, the Social Democrats and 14 smaller parties and regional groups.

The 81-year-old Chancellor, bidding for a third term in the first national elections in four years, contends that if the Socialists win NATO will disintegrate and West Germany might become a Soviet satellite.

Adenauer has campaigned 15,000 miles on that theme. Erich Ollenhauer, the 56-year-old Socialist leader, has fought energetically to prove that he is an anti-Communist as Adenauer. But he wants West Germany to shift to a more neutral position with the hope that policy might help bring unification with East Germany.

Voters will elect only their representatives in the West German Parliament, who in turn will elect a chancellor. Only voters in the home districts of Adenauer and Ollenhauer will vote directly on them.

The Christian Democratic Union, a coalition including Adenauer's party and smaller groups, controls about 51 per cent of the 492 seats in the lower house of Parliament. The Social Democrats have about 33.1 per cent.

Since elections on Sept. 6, 1953, Adenauer has led West Germany into NATO and a rearmament program. The Socialists fought both moves.

One of the sharpest conflicts of the campaign was over what effect a Socialist victory would have on the Western alliance.

Adenauer repeatedly charged that Ollenhauer's foreign policy proposals would wreck NATO, lead to the withdrawal of U. S. troops from Europe and open the gates for "the Red flood."

Ollenhauer stressed that he would remain faithful to the treaty binding West Germany to NATO. The country would not withdraw from NATO without the consent of other members, he said.

But he talked of forming a European security system that might include a united Germany, the United States and Russia.

The country's economic boom is expected to be a big advantage for Adenauer.

The Free Democratic party is the largest of the smaller groups. It could be highly important in a close vote between the Christian Democrats and the Socialists.

In his final campaign speech in Frankfurt Friday night Adenauer declared confidently: "We will win."

In Brunswick, where his campaign was coming to an end, Ollenhauer predicted: "The Christian Democrats will not get an overall majority, since our position is stronger than in 1953."

Frankfurt police confiscated a number of newspapers which included advertisements allegedly for the Social Democrats and Free Democrats as Trojan horses of Communism.

Both the parties had filed court complaints against publication of the advertisement. They contended it was placed by an organization acting for the Christian Democrats.

District Boy, 11, Dies in Freak Mishap

A 12-year-old Pattersonville boy died in Alliance City Hospital on Thursday night following an operation for a ruptured liver sustained in a freak accident near his home.

The victim, Charles E. Kohl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kohl, was injured in a jump of about eight feet from wild grape vines on a hill southwest of his home where he and two other youngsters had gone to play.

Jimmy Henry, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Henry of Pattersonville, one of the other boys swinging on the vines, said he fell when his foot became entangled.

The Kohl boy then jumped and was knocked out when his stomach struck the Henry youth's head. A third boy, John Buy, 10, ran to the home of a neighbor, Robert Moser, who rushed the two injured boys to the Minerva Clinic. After the Kohl boy complained of abdominal pains, he was taken to Alliance hospital.

Dr. E. B. Mozes of Canton, Stark County coroner, gave a verdict of accidental death.

Besides his parents, the boy is survived by four sisters, two brothers and grandparents.

Funeral services are set Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Gotschall-Hutchison Funeral Home in Minerva where friends may call tonight from 7 to 9.

Ike, Gov. Faubus Hold Meeting

To Attempt to Settle Little Rock Dispute

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower held a dramatic private meeting with Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus today, seeking a solution to the school integration deadline in the South.

Three of Eisenhower's top aides, including Atty. Gen. Brownell, were on hand for the unprecedented meeting. Faubus brought Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) and a personal assistant.

Presidential press secretary James Hagerly said Eisenhower would not hold a news conference after the meeting but that a White House statement might be issued. Arrangements were made for Faubus to meet with newsmen at the nearby press headquarters if he wished.

Preemptive Crisis Faubus precipitated the crisis which led to this history-making meeting with Eisenhower by using National Guardsmen to block court-ordered mingling of white and Negro pupils at a Little Rock, Ark., high school.

In Little Rock earlier this week a source close to Faubus pictured the governor as ready "to confer, not capitulate" at this meeting with Eisenhower.

On leaving Little Rock Friday Faubus said he was optimistic about solving the problem in Little Rock where Federal District Court injunctive proceedings have been started against him in a move to clear the way for school integration.

Faubus Wires Ike In requesting the conference, Faubus wired Eisenhower last Wednesday that he felt they should "counsel together" regarding the course he (Faubus) should take. The governor at the same

Russia Issues Strong Warning

Turkey Accused of Massing Troops Along Syrian Border

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union again has warned Turkey that any military move against Syria might spread into world war.

The warning was based on Soviet charges that the United States wants "to organize military intervention from without in Syria's internal affairs." Turkey, which lies between Russia and Syria, was warned not to join in the alleged U. S. plans.

The warning was contained in a personal letter from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin to Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes. It was delivered in Ankara Wednesday and broadcast Friday night by Moscow radio.

The day before the Soviet letter was delivered, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko accused Turkey of concentrating troops on the Syrian border. Turkey replied that its troops are only on normal maneuvers.

In his first foreign policy declaration in about a month, Bulganin wrote:

"We have met with great concern the report about Turkish troop concentrations on Syria's borders, as well as about the shipments of American arms to Turkey to effect an attack against Syria."

"The Soviet Union cannot remain indifferent to these events." The Soviet Premier did not note that the reports to which he referred have originated with Soviet and pro-Soviet Middle Eastern sources.

Bulganin said, "we are convinced that should military action against Syria be started and begun in the Middle East, Turkey would undoubtedly only suffer as a result of participation in such an aggression, while her positions in that area would inevitably be undermined."

This was possibly a reference to rivalry over the southern Turkish port of Iskenderun, the Syrian Alexandretta before 1939 which Syria would like to have back.

"We believe," Bulganin said, "calculations that a military adventure against Syria could be in some manner localized are dangerous... The first, as well as the second, world war began with a local military action by aggressors but everyone knows the direct effect these wars has for the aggressors as well as for mankind."

As Gromyko had done, Bulganin charged that Loy Henderson, U.S. State Department expert, tried to line up support for aggression against Syria on a Middle Eastern tour. The tour was made after pro-Soviet officers took control of Syria's army a month ago.

The Soviet letter was similar to a Russian warning last fall that it might intervene to support Egypt during the Suez attack.

Red Moves in Hungary Criticized

U.N. Condemns Russia For Repressive Acts

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly today brushed aside "neutralist" protests and voted a new condemnation of the Soviet Union for repressive measures against the Hungarian people.

The condemnation was a key provision of a 37-nation resolution approved in a special meeting of the 81-nation Assembly. The vote early this morning came after four days of debate. The count was 60 in favor, 10 against and 10 abstaining.

The only negative votes were cast by the nine Soviet bloc countries and Yugoslavia. Those abstaining were Afghanistan, Ceylon, Egypt, Finland, India, Indonesia, Nepal, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen. South Africa was absent.

The result was a smashing victory for the United States.

The U. S. delegation, headed by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, had taken the lead in lining up support behind the resolution and in resisting attempts by several Asian nations to tone it down.

The resolution placed the Assembly squarely behind the U.N.'s five-member Committee of Inquiry which had indicted the Soviet Union and the Hungarian regime of Janos Kadar for mass deportations and indiscriminate slaughter in putting down last fall's uprising.

It called on the Russians and the Kadar government to "desist" from the repressions. And it named the Assembly president,

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN
Allergies or Hives.

Of all the allergies, hives, or urticaria, is probably the most perplexing.

It is frequently impossible to find the cause and it is too often impossible to effect a cure. Furthermore, an attack may come on suddenly, not only without apparent cause, but leave without any treatment at all and never occur again.

As a rule, urticaria is characterized by the appearance on the skin of reddish, swollen spots measuring half an inch or more across which itch intensely. They may appear almost anywhere on the skin and may last for only a few hours and then disappear without apparent reason or may last for days or even weeks. Certainly there is no single "cause" since urticaria can develop from a great many different things. Therefore, in a way, it is not proper to call it a disease.

Apparently there is some special quality about the person who has urticaria which makes it possible. For example, most of us can eat strawberries without developing hives, but a few break out if they eat even a single berry.

Urticaria can follow swallowing almost any food or drug. It often appears as the result of infection, heat, furs or insect bites. Curiously enough, most patients with hives do not show a skin reaction when given the skin tests with the offending agent. This is difficult to explain and, of course, has made identification of the cause in many cases of obscure origin extremely difficult.

LOST BOY

Dry those tears, Sonny. The Law has brought you home.

But when you're grown up, don't get lost then—for the Law won't be able to bring you home!

Sure, grown-ups often get lost. They choose the wrong road, they take the wrong turn, they depend on the wrong ideas, they seek the wrong aims. And some of them get lost again and again.

Why can't the Law bring them home, too? Well, when a grown-up gets lost he generally does a lot of harm to himself and others. And then it's the job of the Law to protect people from the harm he is doing.

But, Sonny, when you grow up you're not going to get lost. We have thousands of churches for youngsters like you—and for your parents, too. Churches teach us to find ourselves before we have a chance to get lost.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Back to the CCC?

With the spotlight on New York in the national concern over juvenile crime, officials in that city are toying with the idea of setting up work camps as one solution to the growing problem.

A few youths nearing parole already have been transferred from a correctional institution to a camp from which they are sent daily to work on state lands. More such camps are planned, some of them for boys not actually afloat of the law who are willing to leave environments, at home and on the streets, conducive to crime.

The camps, says Mayor Robert F. Wagner, would be pretty much like the Civilian Conservation Camps of depression days, offering a variety of wholesome activities emphasizing training for useful jobs in the outside world.

But there would be a basic difference. The CCC was only for youths out of jobs; it barred delinquents and other misfits. The work camps would admit only delinquents and potential delinquents and try to fit them for the community in which they so far have not fitted.

The camps may well provide a partial substitute for "reform schools," which too often merely protect the community from the young lawbreaker and do little or nothing to help him — if, indeed, they do not make him worse.

Still In Short Supply

The steady growth of service industries, as Sylvia Porter has pointed out, has caused them to employ more people than now are employed in production. This is a testimonial to efficiency in production methods, but in a larger sense it is evidence of an insatiable demand for needs that rise out of productivity.

Miss Porter thinks it will stabilize employment, because layoffs are more likely to be postponed in service industries than production industries. If sales of new TV sets are sluggish, no time is wasted in cutting overhead at the factories. But at the same time, people who can service TV sets may be in more demand than ever.

This demand for sales and service skill is constant and unrelenting in an era of gadgetry. Every gadget possessor, whatever it happens to be, becomes aware sooner or later if shortcomings in arrangements to keep his gadgets in working order.

The needs that have risen out of America's fabulous productivity are still largely unsatisfied, even though the service industries already loom larger than the industries that produced the things that need servicing. Once more, it is being demonstrated that mechanization and automation make jobs.

So Goes Maine

Since 1872, when Congress went on record in favor of simultaneous congressional and presidential elections in November, Maine has persisted in standing by its 1820 decision to ballot for congressmen and senators in September.

The reason it gave was that November brought bad weather and nasty roads. But secretly it revealed in the publicity it derived from the old saw, "As Maine Goes (in September), So Goes the Nation (in November)."

Things have changed. Roads are considerably better and today's autos can negotiate the worst of them with no difficulty. And the old saw deteriorated into an old joke as the state voted Republican in the Septembers of 1936, 1940, 1944, and 1948. About all you could say was that unless Maine voted Republican by at least 65 per cent, the GOP would have trouble in the nation, and even that barometer occasionally went haywire.

So Maine's voters have decided to join citizens of 47 other states in November elections. It's a case of New England individuality yielding to New England practicality, for, as proponents of the switch argued, "Twice in two months is too often to traipse to the polls."

Birth of a Profession

The competition among companies to acquire the services of each new crop of college graduates has become such a free-swinging affair that the U.S. Chamber of Commerce has felt compelled to set up a "code of ethics concerning it."

Regardless of the degree to which competitors observe it, the code, of course, serves to dignify the vocation of graduate recruiting, giving it a boost from the low status of a "practice" to the more respectable one of a "profession."

If the typical pattern for this sort of thing ensues, it is reasonable to expect there will soon be, if indeed there is not already, a society of graduate recruiters which will in turn devise ways to add still more dignity to the calling it represents.

The society's first logical move would be to set up standards of qualification for potential pursuers of the profession, beginning, naturally, with educational requirements. From there it is an easy imaginative jump to a full-fledged college course leading to a bachelor of graduate recruiting and producing an esteemed flock of graduate graduate grabbers.

Tax Problem Seen if U. S. Contracts Schools

If the federal government is to take over state responsibilities, including the management and control of the public schools, then why shouldn't the taxpayers of the different states be relieved of the expense too?

This is a question involving some 11 billion dollars spent annually by the states and cities on public schools. The oldest principle in the American creed is that "taxation without representation is tyranny." If the people of the states hereafter are not to have the final say as to how their money shall be spent for schools and the federal government is to be supreme in regulating attendance at the schools, then the citizens of the states may come to feel that the responsibility for raising the money needed should be a 10 per cent federal function.

SOME STATES already have laws which provide that if Negroes are ordered into white schools, then appropriations shall cease for the schools they attend and the schools from which they are transferred. No court order can make a state legislature spend money it doesn't want to spend. So the federal government will have to take over.

All this might add 11 billion dollars to the federal budget, but the smaller states would benefit, because they would not be required to contribute proportionately.

All federal taxes nowadays are based in the capacity of the citizen to pay the specified rates, irrespective of his geographical location.

If the cost of education in America is to be saddled primarily on the middle- and higher-income groups, it will be a windfall for the lower-income citizens, especially in the less densely populated states. For the cost of school buildings is rising everywhere and many states really have not been able to expand their school building facilities due to insufficient receipts from state taxes.

THIS QUESTION could become a big issue politically. For if the federal government now is going to take over state functions—and the Little Rock controversy shows the way the wind is blowing—then there will be less and less interest in recent statements by the administration that local government units should remain independent of federal help so far as practicable.

The administration has claimed that it is trying to encourage a trend toward local responsibility. Vice President Nixon the other day expressed that sentiment to a conference of mayors, and a few weeks ago President Eisenhower said the same thing to the conference of governors.

These statements sound hollow now as the federal government undertakes to question the motives of a governor when he tries to preserve order.

In fact, the Department of Justice is engaged in preparing injunctions at Little Rock and elsewhere in the South transferring to the federal courts the responsibility for handling school problems arising out of segregation issues. This is bound to discourage any trend toward autonomy by the states.

THERE HAS BEEN for years a tendency to lean on the federal government for financial aid, but the states have insisted on retaining their independence.

Congress recently has been debating federal participation in a school program to be financed both by the states and by the national government.

Economy-minded members of Congress, however, from the northern districts and many southerners have formed a majority to block such legislation. But if the federal government now succeeds in squelching a governor and hamstringing him in the discharge of his normal functions, it is possible for the tide to turn the other way as the people may say, "Since you take the responsibility for education, why not pay for it all?"

Politically speaking—a and the whole issue of segregation-integration has many political aspects—the Democrats are likely to benefit immeasurably by what the Eisenhower administration has done.

NOT ONLY WILL the southern states lose Republican votes now but in the North many Republicans who are shocked by the idea of "forced integration" and the use of federal power to interfere with the governor of a state in the performance of his customary duties will shrink from voting for the Republican ticket.

Many Republicans, enraged by what has happened, will vote for the opposite party in protest and many will stay at home.

The Republican party has already gotten some hard knocks in Wisconsin—the colored vote didn't help much there—but what is happening in Arkansas will cause a loss of many votes throughout the North which will never be offset by the supposed gain of Negro votes.

It's a political blunder of major proportions for the Republican party.

Experiment in Happiness

By JOHN H. BARNES

(Editor's Note: Some of T.T.'s readers have written vacation columns for him this year. Today's essayist is a securities salesman.)

Several months ago, I asked Truman Twill "Where do you get all your ideas for your column?" His ready answer was, "It's no trick at all. I just suck my thumb and there they are." Sounds plausible, but much more difficult when writing a guest column, while he is on vacation.

I tried one thumb, no result! Then two and am giving it the two thumbs plus eight fingers. The results follow:

T.T.'s readers, I am sure, all wish him a most restful and happy vacation and that brings me to the subject of this discourse: HAPPINESS!

Webster says happiness is a state of well-being. Take an inventory of your own state of well-being. If you were sour and grumpy today, try tomorrow to be happy and for all the other tomorrows.

It's so easy to be cheerful and happy, and it starts way back in early childhood. Ever hear a baby coo? Baby can't tell you, but daddy and mother know—they have a happy child.

"Happiness is like a perfume. You can't pour it on others without getting a few drops on yourself."

Happiness is like that smile—throw it out to someone and it comes back to you like a boomerang. Like a stone thrown into the still waters the ripples grow wider and wider. So with the smile.

You can't worry and be happy at the same time. The things that you worry about never happen.

You can't be happy and selfish at the same time, but you can be happy by doing things for others.

Your favorite charity is deserving of your talents and energy. Give according to your ability. (Monetary or service.) There are many waiting! Good Will Industries, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, the church, Red Cross and many more. Peace of mind and personal happiness will come to you a thousand fold if you will only participate.

Then there is community happiness. How wonderful it would be if your city, town or village would, on a given day in the summer months, gather together and call it a Happy Day. Divide the community, North and South, East or West, whichever suits the occasion. The first year, have the people living in the North section entertain all those people living in the South section. Ox roast, corn roast etc. Come, one, come all!

Then the next year, the people living in the South section would entertain those living in the North. This may be an experiment and take several tries to make it a successful venture but the outcome can't help but bring a better understanding between peoples and result in a happy and an understanding community. It may be hard work, but the happy individuals in the community can be trusted to apply the formula.

Lets all be boys and girls at heart. Relax and be happy. We can't be happy and worry at the same time or be selfish and happy at the same time.

Today and everyday, enjoy life in "God's Chosen America." Smile and be happy. Don't wait until the happy occasions as birthdays, Christmas and New Years.

American Communists — but only some and in a limited way — became critical of Russia. But

SIDE GLANCES

Ejected! -- And It Flies On Uncontrolled

Communist Convulsions

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Communist party is having convulsions. They're not death throes. But the party is sick, torn by factions, and losing members.

It claimed 80,000 members in 1945. It claims only 10,000 now, and says it lost 7,000 in the past year. Some of its most dedicated members quit, like Howard Fast, novelist, and Joseph Clark, foreign editor of the Daily Worker.

On one side is the William Z. Foster faction. Foster is the party's chairman emeritus and an old-line Stalinist. He became party chairman after the war and under his leadership it reached the edge of disaster.

Chief spokesman for the other side is John Gates, editor in chief of the Daily Worker, the party's newspaper, and critic of the party's failure to find a way to keep its members and increase its effectiveness.

The membership began dwindling under Foster, and the party found itself isolated from all other groups in American life. And then for a party which pretended to have the solutions for American living, it made a pitiful and abject admission.

A year ago it admitted it had misunderstood American economics by predicting a depression; it misunderstood the American Negro, American politics, American labor and, in short, what Americans thought and wanted.

And after Nikita Khrushchev, Russian Communist party boss, denounced Stalin the American party made a complete abdication from any pretension to intellectual leadership.

It admitted that—up to the time of Khrushchev's revelations about Stalin's murders—it had accepted as "ipso facto valid" whatever the Russian Communist party did.

Khrushchev's speech rocked the American Communist party. But he opened the door to a split when he suggested non-Russian Communist parties could show some independence of Moscow and even be critical.

American Communists — but only some and in a limited way — became critical of Russia. But they became critical of one, another too. This fitted in with what Khrushchev had in mind.

Since Communist parties—here and in Western Europe—were losing ground, a new front, with a pretension of independence from Moscow, might enable them to put or the appearance of independent, native Communist parties.

That in turn might enable them to infiltrate other groups and get their members elected to Parliaments.

But when the self-criticism began in this country it was the Gates group against the kind of leadership the Fosterites had provided and the Fosterites standing pat for the old-line kind of operation.

At its convention this year — which was in line with Khrushchev's ideas—the party made a show of independence from Moscow. This was just rearranging the furniture.

FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover told Congress shortly after this convention that American Communists "in fact have not broken with the Soviet Union" despite an "alleged declaration of independence."

Besides the nausea and disillusionment which drove some Communists out of the American party after Khrushchev's speech, there were other factors which caused a loss of membership.

One was the brutal Russian suppression of the Hungarians. An earlier one was this government's prosecution — and conviction — of more than 100 top and second-rung party leaders.

As of now the party is like a town council without mayor. It has a national executive committee running the show but no one man can claim to be the full boss.

Dizzy Plunge

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of living goes on rising drearily in many of its phases but to the men who mine and sell copper, lead and zinc inflation today is just a myth.

Prices of the three metals have tumbled sharply from their peak. And the mining industry, meeting today in Salt Lake City, is asking Washington for help to halt the debacle. Output is being cut back, work weeks shortened, mines closed.

Copper's dizzy plunge has taken it from its European high of 55½ cents a pound in March 1956 to its present shaky state where it can be bought in New York as low as 25 cents a pound and on the London Metal Exchange for 23 cents. At the start of 1957 the price here was 35 cents.

Big consumers still appear to be living off their stocks while supplies mount around the world.

How did the wide swing in prices in the last 18 months come about?

Mining men admit that the top price was partly a fluke and they expected a drop. But they had hoped to hold the price line well above its present low point.

The sharp climb in price in 1955 and early 1956 came about this way:

Demand was growing as America swung into its big boom and business set off its record expansion drive and the government was buying for its defense stockpile. Demand was even higher in Western Europe where its industrial boom was riding high.

But supply of copper was cut in 1955 by strikes in the United States, Rhodesia and Chile. In all, work stoppages kept 150,000 tons of the metal from being mined.

The critical shortage and the unprecedented demand sent producer prices climbing — in the U. S. to 46 cents a pound, higher in Europe. This brought out a lot more production in high-cost mines and the opening of new mines.

Late in 1956 world supplies began to climb. Here the auto, appliance and home building industries started to buy less copper than they had during their big 1955 boom.

Copper fabricators, who had been scrambling for metal wherever they could find it, began shipping out less copper in end products than they were taking in and stocks mounted. Manufacturers, who also had been scrambling for metal, found they had more on hand than the current sales of their own product justified and they cut back on orders.

The three big copper producers here — Phelps Dodge, Kennecott and Anaconda — played a delaying action on price cutting. But the custom smelters began steadily lowering their prices.

The smelters supply about 15 per cent of the total used by the fabricators. The smelters buy ore and scrap and refine it, and they do some processing of ore for others on a fee basis. The smelters want to keep their refined metal moving out steadily, so in a falling market they undersell the producers. They have been keeping their price at one to two cents a pound lower than the big producers.

Chile has been mining more copper than she can sell. Northern Rhodesia has been cutting prices recently to move its unsold metal.

With world prices lower than here, American producers and smelters are having a hard time maintaining a price they contend rising operating costs demand.

They will ask Congress for a four to six cent tariff to go into effect when a peril price point of 36 to 32 cents is reached. Prices are well below that now.

I've been revived myself spiritually by what has happened in New York (crusade). — Evangelist Billy Graham.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Post Miss America Crisis

Miss America for 1958 has been chosen but the usual cry of "the judges goofed" is still going up in the homes of the land. Not justifiably, but because in many such contests it's an eyelash victory and no ten people agree on the same dreamchild.

This year's Miss America contest had so many radiant eyelets that in the final choice the judges were just resorting to the hit-and-run play. Picking one gal as Miss America is cockeyed anyhow.

There should be a Miss America All American Team, as in football. And we have so many breath-taking beauties that being on the second eleven would not be a bad break.

BUT, LOOKING BACK, the big question is this: What has happened to the glamor chicks of the East? Not a gal from New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey or all New England got into the final five.

New England's beauties were as good as left at the post. No top American beauties in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire or Maine! This is treason, mutiny, libel and maybe subversion.

(As a New Englander we favor secession from the Union, even if it means Civil War. To say that there is not a babe in the area who can get into the stretch drive in a beauty race is slander.)

In many an eastern household the charge is being made that the judges this year should have made their "passports" to the area lifted.)

COLORADO is a great state, but the answer up to now to the question "What has it got that Massachusetts, for instance, hasn't got?" hasn't been "feminine knockouts."

Colorado is a mining zone, and so far as beauty goes it can now be said that there's gold in them "Jills." One of the largest audiences ever to tune in on a TV program saw the telecast of the finals and a lot of folks were surprised that it was a dignified charm and talent ceremonial, devoid of any "cheese-cake."

Once upon a time the Miss America event was largely a "leg show," with waist, ankle, calf and bust measurements featured and with a gal's shape the main element. But today the face counts. And, believe it or not, so do CLOTHES!

In the telecast of the finals the babes were overdressed, if anything and there wasn't an undraped torso.

Talent and brains also count now, and in the grand finals a chick has to do some singing, dancing, instrument playing or dramatic bit, and go through a quiz show.

The day when a girl had an outside chance of being crowned Miss America even if talented merely as a bathing beach parader, with a mind that didn't function very well, ended long ago.

ON THE MIKE WALLACE quizzeroo, Eddie Arcaro, famous jockey, admitted an income of $200,000 a year or more and said he had over the years collected between two and three million.

Asked why he didn't retire, however, he replied, "I haven't enough money left to quit and live the way I want to."

Veep Nixon, sounding off on juvenile hoodlums in New York, declared that the solution lay in keeping youth more physically fit. From all the returns it would seem that the great need was to keep their victims in better shape.

Dr. Leach Cross, a New York dentist who died the other day, was the famous Leach Cross who was a prize ring battler years ago, fought such toughies as Knockout Brown, Ad Wolgast, Battling Nelson and Willie Ritchie.

Bell Paces Bulldogs To 26-6 Win

Leetonia Ripped By East Palestine

By GORDON ARNDT
East Palestine's devastating ground attack was too much for Leetonia to contain last night. Leetonia before some 2,000 fans as the Bulldogs beat the Bears 26-6 in the first Tri-County league contest of the season.

The running of Palestine full-back Beau Bell spearheaded the the drive by scoring from three yards out. During the march, he carried 11 times for 41 yards. The score read 7-0 with Leetonia behind after George Hull scored on the extra point try.

LEETONIA was unable to move the pigskin the second time they got hold of the ball toward the end of the quarter and on the initial play in the second frame the Bear's Ernie Baker punted to his opponent's 35.

The Bulldogs then began to move again but their attack faltered on the Leetonia 27.

Neither team was then able to launch an attack during the remainder of the second period even though both had two tries to do so.

MIDWAY through the third quarter, Palestine took possession on their own 29, following a punt by Leetonia's Baker.

At this point Bell started to work again for Coach John Hogan. Following a 32-yard jaunt by the Bulldog's fullback and an 18-yard run by George Hull, the Brown and White had a first down on the Bear's 13 yard line.

Leetonia was then penalized five yards to their eight. Bell, who is apparently taking up where Palestine's Jim Linder left off last year, smashed to within four yards of paydirt.

Hull then found an opening at right guard and the visitors had their second T.D. of the night. Bell tackled on the 14th point on a line buck.

FOLLOWING the kickoff, Coach Pat Mancuso's Blue and White gridders began moving from their own 34.

A Grove-to-Hedl aerial netted 31 yards to the Palestine 35. Another pass play by the same participants moved the leather to the Bulldogs' 11. Three plays later Grove passed to Hedl in the end zone and the Bears had their first score of the 1957 season. Jim Rance's kick was too low and Leetonia trailed by eight at 14-6.

Not to be denied, Hogan's proteges got their ground-attack juggernaut working again and within seven plays, Palestine had another touchdown and a 20-6 lead. The extra point try failed.

Bulldog quarterback Jack Rukenbrod culminated the march by cracking over from but 18 inches away.

THE VICTORS got the pigskin right back after the kickoff following the interception of a Leetonia pass by Palestine's Jim Knight.

Starting from the Blue and White 30, the Bulldogs moved into paydirt in five plays, with George Hull scoring on a five-yard smash over tackle Rukenbrod's attempted conversion was not good and Palestine led 26-6.

On the fourth play following the kickoff, a pass interference play was called on Palestine which gave Leetonia a first down on the Bulldog's 23. Three pass plays failed and shortly afterwards the game ended with Palestine in possession. The Bear's Gene Leffler and Palestine's Gil Fennell were tossed out of the game in the fourth period for "mixing it up."

Tribe Gets 21 Hits In Win Over Red Sox

BOSTON, (AP)—The Boston Red Sox may be wondering today what the Cleveland Indians are doing in fifth place.

The Tribe staged their biggest uprising of the season at the expense of the Red Sox Friday night as they hammered out a 16-3 victory.

While Indian batters collected 21 hits—a season's high—veteran Mike Garcia notched his fifth straight victory and 11th of the season with a fine six-hitter.

Vic Wertz swung the big bat for Cleveland, driving in three runs with his 24th home run of the season and scoring two more on sacrifice flies. Rookie Joe Caffie also homered for the Tribe.

Dick Williams upped his batting average to .297 by banging out five hits in six times at bat and driving in two runs. Bobby Avila collected four hits. Gene Woodling three and Chico Carrasquel and Garcia two each. Not one of the Indians failed to get a hit and only catcher Dick Brown failed to score a run.

Four Red Sox hurlers trooped to the mound, George Susce got the loss.

Garcia got off to a shaky start. Boston scored twice in the second inning and added another tally in the third. After that, Garcia settled down and allowed only two hits, a pair of singles by Jackie Jensen.

Caffie's home run, singles by Avila and Woodling and a fly ball by Wertz got the Indians off to a two-run lead in the first inning.

Dick Gernert tripled home the first Boston run in the second before the game was delayed a half hour by rain. Pete Daley singled home another run when play resumed.

Jim Piersall led off the third with a double, took third on a deep fly to center and scored on a sacrifice fly by Gene Stephens.

After the fifth inning, when the Indians scored two runs, the game was no contest. They scored four more runs in the sixth, one in the seventh, three in the eighth and four in the ninth.

20 Youths Enrolled In Rifle Course Sponsored by Hunt Club

Some 20 Salem youths between the ages of 10 and 16 are currently in their second year of hunter's safety and rifle instruction classes at the Salem Hunting Club.

The classes, which are sponsored by the club, are open to any youth between 10 and 16 who has completed the hunter's safety lecture course.

Each Thursday at the Salem Hunting Club, the boys undergo practice rifle firing sessions under the guidance of five instructors. They are Dave Kirby, Brant Flick, Bob Muncie, George Stowe and Dutch Miles.

The instruction classes are under National Rifle Association Rules and are conducted by instructors certified by the N.R.A.

The entire course consists of 15 levels of awards. A boy must score a certain number of points to qualify for each level. The first level is "pro-marksmen" and the levels progress to "distinguished rifleman."

Boys fire at the targets from four positions during the courses, standing, kneeling, sitting and prone. For each level of firing the boy has completed, he is entitled to a medal.

The N.R.A. courses stress proper gun handling in circumstances met in hunting, along with information about guns and ammunition.

The biggest puzzle of all in the Braves' current regression which has seen them average only three runs in each of their last nine games, is Aaron.

The league's defending batting champion hasn't been himself since he slipped on a drain board while chasing fly ball in Philadelphia July 17, sprained his ankle and missed five games.

At the time Aaron was hitting a robust .352 and appeared a shoo-in to repeat as batting king. His average following Friday night's 4 for 4 effort against his nemesis, Don Drysdale, fell to .317. He still leads the league in homers with 40 and runs batted in with 120, however.

"It's one of those things he's going to have to fight himself out of," said a perplexed Haney. "I don't know what ails him. I moved him from cleanup to No. 2 in the batting order thinking the pressure would be off and he'd snap out of it. He still isn't hitting."

In the last nine games Aaron has collected 7 hits, including only one home run, in 34 trips for a .206 average. I four games batting second he shows a .143 average on 2 hits in 14 tries. He is hitless in his last 11 turns.

"He's hit only one good ball all week, that home run against Pittsburgh," Haney continued. "He's beating the ball and taking too many good pitches. He started taking in Chicago Labor Day and hasn't stopped."

"I'm just having a bad second half, that's all," he said. "The Dodgers' Carl Furillo figures the Braves just need a little more confidence."

"One guy's waiting for the other to get a hit," he said. "They've got to take the bulls by the horns like it was spring training all over again. They can win it, but they need confidence in themselves."

CONTINUE SEARCH

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Rescue crews searched the debris in seven villages today for more victims of Wednesday's floods. The known death toll stood at 87. Mayor Orhan Eren of Ankara said the final toll might top 100. Thousands were left homeless when torrential rains on barren hillsides sent the Hatit Cayi River out of its banks 25 miles east of Ankara.

Judge Rules Work Stoppage By School Teachers is Illegal

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (AP)—More than 400 Pawtucket school teachers and some 10,000 pupils prepared today to return to classrooms Monday in 17 public schools after a Superior Court judge ruled that a nine day work stoppage by the teachers was illegal.

Russia

Arkady A. Sobolev said: "We regret that Prince Wan has been drawn into this shameful and noisy campaign against the socialist countries."

Later at the 1th General Assembly was preparing to adjourn, Sobolev pressed W for the way he had praised Wan for the meetings that began last fall.

Burma led a move to avoid a direct condemnation of the Russians. Several other Asian countries, including Indonesia, Ceylon and India, opposed the idea of a condemnation, but when the vote came only Burma and Iran voted for a proposal to substitute the word "deplores" for "condemns."

U.S. Military Plane Is Delayed in Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An American embassy spokesman said today a U.S. Air Force plane took off for Nicosia Friday night after being delayed an extra day by Egyptian authorities, who expressed suspicion the plane's crew had photographed an Egyptian military airport.

The spokesman said the plane, on a routine flight, flew over Egypt's Al Maza military airport by mistake. Flying at 2,500 feet, it circled over Al Maza, then landed at nearby Cairo International Airport as originally intended. The pilot explained it was his first flight into Egypt and he confused the two landing fields.

Egyptian authorities took the cameras of the crew and others aboard and developed the film. It showed only tourist scenes in Cairo. The plane was allowed to proceed after the cameras were returned.

Jesuits Urged to Shun 'Superfluous' Things

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII has urged members of the Society of Jesus, whose religious order was founded by St. Ignatius Loyola, to shun "superfluous" things—among them tobacco.

The pontiff received generals of the society, now the largest single religious order of the Roman Catholic Church, in special audience four days ago. The text of his address—in which he urged the Jesuits to follow the austere rules of St. Ignatius—was released today.

Naval Air Station In Akron to Be Closed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Naval Air Station at Akron, Ohio, will be closed before next June 30, the Navy announced Friday.

Deactivation of the Akron station, and another to be closed at St. Louis, will start after Feb. 1, the Navy said. Both stations now train Navy Air Reservists. The deactivation of both will save about $1,260,000 a year and make about 90 officers and men available for other assignments, the Navy said.

Teenager Knows When It's 'Friday the 13th'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Ronny Osburn, 15, didn't have to be reminded it was Friday the 13th yesterday.

He broke his right thumb for the third time playing football. Each break has occurred on a Friday the 13th.

The teachers who sought an immediate $500 raise this year and $400 more next year refused to enter classrooms on Sept. 4. Their present maximum salary is $5,400 a year.

Judge G. Frederick Frost will sign a temporary injunction against the work stoppage today. The decree, in effect, formally puts an end to the strike.

Judge Frost indicated Friday that the public school pupils in this industrial city of 85,000 were the chief concern in his decision. Parochial schools were not affected.

The jurist said "turning a large number of children of school age upon the streets mean that many will gravitate toward trouble of one sort or another. To close the schools is giving the children a push towards juvenile delinquency."

He said the teachers are an integral part of the government of the city. That they are employees of the government and have no legal right to strike against the government.

In his decision, Judge Frost quoted the statement made by Calvin Coolidge some 30 years ago during a police strike in Boston while Coolidge was governor of Massachusetts. Coolidge had said: "There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, any time, any where."

Judge Frost said he was not passing judgement on the merits of the dispute, but said, "I believe that a proper wage should be paid to all teachers."

The Pawtucket School Board has offered the teachers a three-year contract which would raise the maximum salary to $5,675 this year, $5,875 next year, and $6,075 the third year.

The Pawtucket Teachers Alliance contends that under the school board's proposal, the more experienced teachers would get the least wage boost. A teacher now receiving the maximum of $5,400 would receive only $675 over the next three years in raises, while a teacher making $3,000 would be raised to $4,600 in three years—a $1,600 boost.

Grand Jury

Columbiana, non-support of his mother.

Three secret indictments were returned but will not be made public until the papers have been served by the sheriff's department.

Arraignment day for those indicted has been set for Sept. 23. The jurors reported the county jail was found to be in excellent condition and all rules and regulations were being observed. They commended the sheriff and his staff on the way they were executing their duties.

Filler to Address Scout Gathering

The conference begins at 2 p.m. today and ends at noon Sunday. Filler will be the key note speaker at 6 this evening. His subject, "We Can Reach the Mountains," will be heard by hundreds of scouts from Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

RCA, Zenith Settle Dispute

$8 Million Spent In 9-Year Court Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—A 61½-million-dollar antitrust damage suit, filed against Radio Corp. of America by Zenith Radio Corp., has been settled for 10 million dollars—a settlement Zenith said is the largest in history.

The suit was settled last Monday in U. S. District Court but the sum was not made known until Friday.

Zenith alleged RCA blocked Zenith's entry into world markets by maintaining a monopoly on foreign trade in electronic equipment.

The amount of the settlement was announced by W. Donald McSweeney, Zenith attorney. Another Zenith attorney, Thomas McConnell, said the company "has recovered more in this law suit than any previous antitrust litigant in history."

In preparing the nine-year case, McConnell said Zenith spent two million dollars. An RCA spokesman said his firm spent six million dollars fighting the suit, which named as defendants, RCA, three domestic electrical companies and 14 foreign firms.

Court aides said the previous high recovery in an antitrust case was nine million dollars, collected by the Ferguson Tractor Co. in a 1949 suit against Ford Motor Co.

Besides RCA, the suit named as defendants the U. S. firms of General Electric Co., Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., and Western Electric Co. Zenith alleged these companies worked with RCA in keeping "patent blocking Zenith from doing business" in foreign countries—thusness abroad.

time expressed willingness to "obey all proper orders of our courts," and added "it is certainly my desire to obey" the integration order in the Little Rock case.

Faubus, who sent troops to the Little Rock high school Sept. 3, has said repeatedly he did so to preserve peace and order—and not block integration. He contends there would have been violence if a court-approved plan for admitting 10 Negroes to the school had been put into effect.

Eisenhower — disturbed by the various violence episodes in the integration picture—has told Faubus that he intends to uphold the Constitution by every legal means at his command.

Reds Fire New Charges at U.S.

Peiping Radio Quotes Official Newspaper

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist China charged today the U.S. government "openly assigned U.S. correspondents tasks which would interfere with China's internal affairs."

Peiping radio quoted the charge from the official newspaper People's Daily. The paper charged earlier that the U.S. State Department had given permission for 26 reporters to enter China "to search out opportunities to create trouble."

The broadcast accused the United States of obstruction since Peiping first made known its willingness to admit some reporters.

Red China last year invited a group of U.S. correspondents to become the first American reporters in mainland China since 1949 but a State Department ban on travel in Red China blocked the trip.

Last month the State Department agreed to let 26 correspondents spend a six-month trial period working in China and later added it would consider applications for Chinese newsmen to work in the United States. None of the Americans has yet received a Chinese visa and no Chinese newsmen has applied for an American visa.

Peiping radio said an exchange of correspondents on the basis of equality and reciprocity was "just and reasonable." It accused the State Department of setting up unacceptable terms "to deceive public opinion and shift onto China responsibility of obstructing contact between the Chinese and American peoples."

An exchange of reporters "all depends on the United States," the broadcast said.

Fall Meet Approved At Wheeling Downs

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—The State Racing Commission has approved a 32-day fall meet at Wheeling Downs, to run from Oct. 18 to Nov. 23.

This will be the second meet under the new management of the half-mile horse race track. It winds up its 58-day summer session today.

The track, formerly owned by William G. (Big Bill) Lias, did not hold a spring meeting this year. It was held under government receivership at the time and Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins turned down a request for a spring meet.

It was sold in June to Hazel Park Racing Assn. of Detroit for $1,780,000 to help satisfy the government's claim against Lias for more than three million dollars in income taxes, penalties and interest.
